New year, new looks! From extreme slimdowns to shocking surgery, stars are showing off major changes

KIRSTIE DROPS 50 POUNDS

Yo-yo dieter Kirstie Alley, 64, is back on Jenny Craig and determined to keep the slim figure she showed off in NYC on Jan. 6. But nutritionist Lisa DeFazio, who estimates that the 5-foot-7 star now weighs 150 pounds, says maintenance will be tough. "If she doesn't identify her triggers," says DeFazio, "she'll gain it all back."

NIKKI GETS NEW BOOBS

Extreme post-breakup makeover? The Bachelor alum Nikki Ferrell, 28, flaunted some extra cleavage at the show's Jan. 5 premiere event in LA — and a source tells In Touch Nikki "got an enhancement" around the time she broke up with Juan Pablo Galavis in October. "Definitely," agrees NYC-based plastic surgeon Dr. Steve Faliek. "The roundness is a dead giveaway."

BETHENNY EXPOSES HER STRANGE CHEST

Bethenny Frankel, 44, removed her implants and got a breast lift in 2008, but she might have to go under the knife again! Dr. Faliek blames the odd indentation in her chest (seen in Miami on Dec. 31) on age — and weight loss. "It's going to get worse," he says. "She'll need another lift."

FARRAH HAS AN EPIC LIP-ENHANCEMENT FAIL

That's gotta hurt! Farrah Abraham, 23, claims she had an allergic reaction to anesthesia while "attempting" to get a lip implant on Jan. 6, but New Jersey-based plastic surgeon Dr. Lyle Back isn't so sure. "You can see where access points were made for fillers," he explains, adding that it's more likely she had a bad reaction to a plumping agent.

Talk about trout pout!

YASMINE DITCHES THE DIET

Former Baywatch babe Yasmine Bleeth, 46, was nearly unrecognizable on a California beach on Jan. 1 — and not just because she's retired her famous red swimsuit. "It looks like she's gained 50 pounds," DeFazio says of the 5-foot-5 actress, who's admitted to being a former cocaine addict. "When people stop using drugs, they sometimes reach for food instead."

NOW

GIULIANA'S WASTING AWAY AGAIN

A scary skinny Giuliana Rancic, 40, shocked viewers with her razor-sharp shoulder blades at the Golden Globes on Jan. 11. "She's always been thin, but it's getting worse," a source tells In Touch, adding that friends are planning an intervention for the 5-foot-9 E! News star, who's down to an estimated 105 pounds. "She needs to be in a treatment center."
