“It appears that Bruce Jenner has had lip augmentation likely with the use of injectable fillers,” Dr. Mirwat Sami, reconstructive surgery expert told HollywoodLife.com.

Another plastic surgeon, Dr. Lyle Back, then explained why Bruce felt the need to plump up his lips. “Full, shapely, moist, kissable lips – for men and women alike – make us look youthful, captivating, attractive, and sexy. Quietly, the sensuality of the lips have a power over us unlike any other part of the face!” he explained.

“Men are hypnotized by sexy lips on a woman, but what men don’t realize is that women are staring at their lips right back – and for all the same reasons! Bruce Jenner – whatever his true sexual identity may be – has always had dry-looking, overly thin, pencil line lips. Seeing them more plumped, soft and shaped is a wonderful cosmetic change!” Dr Back went on.

“He has had some very well done injectable filler treatments to accomplish this. Nicer lips – lips that draw the eye and stir unconscious feelings – are a subtle but key part of improving one’s appearance and confidence, for men and woman alike. Bravo, Bruce!”

Bruce Jenner’s Lips — New Plumper Look

Bruce first stepped out with his noticeably larger lips on March 8 in Westlake Village, California. He plumped them so much they are nearly twice their original size!

It was during a casual Starbucks run where Bruce was photographed with his new larger looking lips — he must have gotten them injected that day judging by their swollen appearance.
